MANDELLI 1953

Every business emerges from a dream and that of the founder of Mandelli Maniglie was a golden dream, and it was all about brass. That was back in 1953. The passion for beauty and the ingenuity that drives innovation is what creates expertise, something that has always been a defining feature of MANDELLI1953.

Over sixty years in the business have given the company great experience in the artisanal tradition, to which it has added dedication, manual skills and industrial technology which have together provided the impetus for a constant flow of technically highly advanced models with innovative and sustainable finishes.

MANDELLI1953

Constant work in the Research and Development department has sought out the best possible combinations of form and function, while never compromising on quality. All this has gone to make MANDELLI1953 one of the leading companies in the sector, both nationally and internationally.

From the choice of the brass, which is of the highest quality and wholly Italian, through to the packaging of the finished handles, the whole of the production process is characterised by great care and attention to detail, here in the Brianza district of Italy.

The brand that MANDELLI1953 exports is not only a mark of excellence, but represents all the culture, art and manufacturing ability that has emerged from its Italian traditions, heritage and craftsmanship, while always, through all these years, drawing on the finest technologies available.

MANDELLI1953

For MANDELLI1953 quality means, even before the technology, a whole series of actions, a code of conduct, stubbornness, a strategy of patience and a passion for detail.

All our handles are made in our own factory using only certified Italian brass. This is forged, turned, die cast, ground, vibrated, polished and satin-finished on the premises, as well as being treated with galvanising, metalizing (PVD) and varnishing processes. The care taken over the quality of the finished product is unyieldingly constant, where it is the detail that makes the difference between a good product and an excellent one, something of which the company has always been very keenly aware.

The MANDELLI1953 handle collection comprises the vision and creativity of a team that also draws on the work of past designers from the company and items that may no longer be in production. Today the business has rediscovered its vocation for dialogue with the world of design, where the creative minds of today bring together the contemporary and the best of classic models in the MANDELLI1953 brand's back catalogue.

The MANDELLI1953 Archives collection is a search for creative stimuli belonging to architects, designers and artists of the past, precursors of styles and forms projected towards the future. A collection of re-editions and unpublished projects discovered in the archives and proposed for the first time to the general public. A tribute to all the Made in Italy creativity and a source of inspiration for the new generations.

PP33 is the exclusive re-edition of a handle made in 1933 by the well-known architect Piero Portaluppi. The new project represents the first model of handle part of a Capsule Collection that the Como based company wants to dedicate to the reinterpretations of historical projects.

MM80 is the declination of a very precise style, that of the master M.M., in a single object with an equally distinct outline. More than a handle, it's an invitation to see, touch, open a door and experience that magical moment of waiting, of emotional tension that pushes us further.

MANDELLI1953 is present in over seventy countries through its experienced distributors, through manufacturers of doors and windows, and in many furnishing showrooms.
